THE WORLD'S MARKET NEWS

WALL STREET

New York, April 15.—First prices of stocks today in most cases were a shade under yesterday's close. Selling was active but the market stood up fairly well. The largest movement was in Utah Copper, which dropped a point. Northern Pacific and Smelting lost nearly as much.

The stock market today was free from the unsettlement of the preceding session. Price movements at first were uncertain, but as there was no evidence of aggressive selling, the market gradually hardened. Trading was almost 50 per cent smaller during the forenoon than in the corresponding time yesterday.

The demand was not large enough to impart sustained strength, and shortly before noon the list eased off, influenced by heavy selling of Union Pacific and weakness of some of the southern and southwestern railroad shares.

Bonds were irregular.

The market closed steady.

Speculative interest converged on the city bond sale and little influence was exerted by a drive against Lehigh Valley, which lost 1/8.

Chicago Livestock.
